Father DARKLEAF'S Column
BY C.H.R.

Competition is the eternal motif of life. Two jockeys entered the home stretch of the Kentucky Derby last week with their horses neck-to-neck. As they thundered up the stretch they tugged and pulled at each other—trying to pull back the other horse. This week two crews are fighting over what is said to be the wreck of the Merida, Mexican treasure ship sunk some 60 miles off the Virginia Capes. There may be millions at stake. And the rivals are fighting it out like modern pirates. Competition! The best tonic in the world to show a man's stuff.

We've heard a lot of discriptions of how tight times were, but none quite so good as the one which they were as tight as Kate Smith's garter.

• • •

Herr Hitler is not satisfied to control what shall be printed now in Germany, but has issued to public and private libraries a list of books they may have upon their shelves. All others not on the list must be destroyed! And all libraries must have from two to ten copies of a book by Hitler himself, called, "My Fight." He controls everything else in Germany—why doesn't he try to control himself!

And why not come on now and give an orchid to A. K. Harwood for the wonderful way he and his assistents have worked night and day—to secure the reopening of our other bank.

Father Darkleaf has heard a number of would-be-business men complain that they were not able to advertise until their business picked up and they had more money to spend. That's drivil. I've never heard of a sick man—on the point of death— declare that he'd wait until he got well before he'd call a doctor. Or a truck, if a man is well and hearty he doesn't need a doctor. The average business concern should, statistics definitely prove, spend from 2 to 3 per cent of its gross receipts for advertising. We happen to have the exact percentage for each individual sort of business.

Supervisors For Health Dist. In 4 Co's

Hope Buckingham, Appomattox, Prince Edward and Cumberland counties can Retain Smaller Health Clinic and Sanitary Unit in Place of Old Southside Unit.

The Appomattox county board of supervisors, in their regular monthly meeting in the clerk's office yesterday, adopted a resolution seeking a continuance of a reorganized health unit to serve this and adjacent counties.

Due to several of the counties in the Southside Health District having cut the district out of their budget appropriations, the unit would have been forced to discontinue its service. However, Appomattox, Buckingham, Cumberland and Prince Edward counties have retained the appropriations in their new budgets and an effort is now being launched to retain the unit in these four counties, with clinic and sanitary service under the direction of Dr. W. A. Brumfield. Appomattox appropriated $625 in its new budget to this purpose, which will run until June 30, 1934.

It is pointed out that the clinic and sanitary service is needed in this time of stress more than ever and that most already spent to inaugurate the work in years past must be protected by carrying on the work.

The supervisors also heard further discussion of road in the Wesley Chapel section and transacted routine business.

Crop Ass'n. Will Meet In Lynchburg

Lynchburg Wins Meeting, and Farmers in This Section Should Plan to Support It

The decision of the Virginia Crop Improvement Association to hold its next annual Corn and Grain Show during the week of January 10, 1934, in Lynchburg, is a signal honor to this section. The Lynchburg Association was selected among others in the state first, through the cooperation of the Chamber of Commerce in meeting all requirements, second, through an evidence that those interested in the agricultural development would work together for a better show and third, in recognition of a progressive farming section.

Those interested in better agriculture should look to this show with pride. Entries and exhibits for it will come from all parts of the U. S., cash prizes are offered for all crops grown locally and as a new feature a class of flowers and potted plants has been added for the ladies of both the rural and urban districts. It is also timely that we call to your attention that small grain will soon be harvested and why not save a sample of good wheat, barley or rye to enter? Also to pick out the best ears of corn during husking season as classes are offered for all popular varieties, then there will be several classes for tobacco. The Junior classes will be open only to 4-H and F.F.A. members. Judging contests for both adults and boys will be another interesting attraction.

The Va. Crop Improvement Association has labored for years to reap varieties of farm crops pure and free from mixtures. It is primarily interested in making available a supply of pure adapted, high yielding, disease free seed which the average farmer may use in reducing the cost of crop production. It has also been a large factor in pure seed legislation in the State.

As Lynchburg has been selected for the 13th Annual Show and Convention, it is up to us to repay that confidence by making the best possible showing.

Sunday is Mothers' Day and the thoughts of every normal man, women and child will turn with special appreciation and effection to their mothers. In a hundred ways their love may be expressed, but the most fitting way to express ones love for his mother is to go to church, and there with others worship God and give thanks to Him, who by precept and example did more for women than any man that ever lived. We know what barbarism does and fails to do for women; we know what Greek and Roman civilisation did and failed to do for her; in how unsatisfactory a condition it left her; how completely it failed to raise her to her true spiritual dignity. Then we know what Christianity did and is doing for her. (1) Jesus taught and enforced the transcendent value of every human soul. (2) He admitted women into His kingdom on the same terms as which he received men: "In Him is neither male nor female and finally, influenced by these ideas, the church has been giving women a growing place or honor and usefulness. Go to church on Mothers' Day.

Miss E. V. Hardy Is Honored Last Night at Church

Veteran Appomattox Teacher Is Honored at Reception and Social Last Night at Liberty Baptist Church

Wednesday evening at eight o'clock, at Liberty Baptist church, addresses were made and a social observed in honor of Miss E. V. Hardy, who had tendered her resignation as a teacher in the local high school. The program of the evening consisted of a tribute to Miss Hardy from her pastor the Rev. W. M. Thompson, and a tribute as a teacher by J. A. Burke, Superintendent of schools in the county. For a number of years Miss Hardy has taught a group of young women in the Sunday school, training them to become teachers. The superintendent of the Sunday school, Don Moses, spoke with feeling of the splendid services rendered by her in this department. Various persons present indulged in interesting reminiscences of by-gone days, Miss Hardy having been a member of Liberty church for a number of years.

MANN—REYNOLDS

Babies Will Be Feted, Hospital

Invite All Children Born in Hospital to Return For a Big Party and Have Pictures Taken

Virginia Baptist Hospital, Lynchburg, Va., is arranging a baby home-coming day to be observed on the afternoon of May 23. To this unique exercise the hospital is especially inviting all the children who were born there from the tiniest babe to the children of eight years or more. Along with the children will come parents and friends. A large number of people will doubtless be in attendance as the hospital has been the birthplace of more than a thousand babies. It will be a great time for mothers to gather and proudly compare their 'incomparables.'

All exercises will be held on the spacious lawn and several special features will make up an interesting program of two hours—3 to 5 o'clock, on May 23.

Parents of children born at the hospital who can make it possible to bring them are requested to drop a card or phone the hospital of their purpose to attend.

Post Office At Pamplin Moved

Mrs. Hughes to Assist in Post-Office at Pamplin, to Newly Named L. N. Ligon

L. N. Ligon has moved the post office to his old post office room, in the central part of the town of Pamplin. This change is large and commodious, and is the same one he used when he was postmaster during Wilson's administration, for more than eight years. He has been recently appointed acting postmaster at Pamplin.

Mr. Ligon will make an efficient and accomodating postmaster. He has appointed as his clerk, Mrs. Hughes, who is well and favorably known in the town of Pamplin, for her efficiency and politeness to the public.

Miss Margaret Ligon, daughter of the postmaster, has been officially permitted to help in the postoffice at such times as the postmaster may need assistance. She has no official appointment, only permission to assist the postmaster when needed, and receives no compensation or salary from the Post Office Department or Government.
